Biography, Scope, and Content

Floyd Greenleaf was born on October 23, 1931, in Braintree, Vermont. After graduating from Forest Lake Academy, he attended Southern Missionary College, now Southern Adventist University, where he graduated in 1955 with a double major in history and religion. Then he completed an M.A. at George Peabody College of Vanderbilt University, and a Ph.D. in history at the University of Tennessee. His doctoral studies centered on Latin America. Dr Greenleaf’s entire teaching career was at Adventist educational institutions. He taught history at Southern Adventist University, where he also served for a time as Vice President for Academic Administration. In 1992 his two-volume work set, The Seventh-day Adventist Church in Latin America and the Caribbean, was published by Andrews University Press. He also revised and updated Richard W. Schwarz’s denominational history textbook, Light Bearers to the Remnant, published in 2000, retitled as Light Bearers: A History of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Floyd Greenleaf was commissioned, in the closing years of the 20\textsuperscript{th} century, by the General Conference Education Department to write a history of the Adventist Education around the world. The resulting book is, "In Passion for the World : A History of Seventh-day Adventist Education," [LC586 .S48 G74 2005] published by Pacific Press Publishing Association in 2005. This is the focus of this collection.

This collection consists of personal notes and lectures notes of Floyd Greenleaf, photocopies of periodicals and books of other authors, printed and handwritten reports and interview transcription, and correspondence. The general topic is Adventist education around the world. A number of folders on Latin America were transferred to another Greenleaf collection--see Collection 236--at the Center for Adventist Research. We felt they fit better in the other collection. The folder titles are noted at the end of this register.

Arrangement

Most of the collection is arranged as it was received from Dr. Greenleaf. Some minor reordering was done during processing by the Center for Adventist Research. No effort was made to sort the correspondence by writer/recipient or by date.
